VOLUME III:
ESSENCE

Warm rain is falling down, soaking Mother Earth. Above, waters paint dendritic patterns into her skin while below, roots and mycelium fan out in kind. In darkness, cascaded down generations from the interstellar network, a seed has been waiting, yearning to be born. Buried in liminal space, this primordial treasure knows and remembers its true nature. Opening in a still pond of pure potentiality, a young body plays out, kissing the light and stretching to origin, gifting food, drink, and the air we breathe. Essence: fresh earth made, distilled from the source. Say a prayer, or not, we're all good. In here, in this crispy moment, we're blessed to crack ecstasy with you. Let's glow and send out the ripples we need.

90 MINUTE EXPERIENCE

Welcome.

In our infinite thirst for transformational beauty, we downloaded a file from our dreams. The access codes are embedded in the language of old stories we tell and new ones conjured. In this tonal layer of meaning, we summon our primordial power of utterance to make our bodies resonate with one another, calling ourselves into a deep and attentive presence. Here and now in this virtual reality, we are born a gift sacrifice and time is escaping. So scroll around, sip essence from the artifacts, and smash the Likes. We opened a Portal, and it's pouring inside. Welcome to the jungle, wildcats.

ARTEMIS, THE DIVINE HUNTRESS

Centerfold art by Saywells Design Co.

In Greek mythology, Artemis was the divine huntress because she lived in perfect harmony with the forest. Everything in the forest loved Artemis, and to be hunted by her was an honor. It never seemed like Artemis was hunting; whatever she needed came to her. This is why she was the best hunter, but this also made her the most difficult prey. Her animal form was a magical deer that was impossible to hunt. Do you speak to nature? Does it speak to you? We can grow into our animality because we are animals. Animals touch earth, smell air, and feel the enlivening pleasure of gravity. Drop anchor into our mammalian mindscape of full blown magic. We once made guttural primordial sounds and now rearrange air into language and song. Peeling back layers, a ferociously attentive animal still remembers.
